MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, August 31 .bath was looked forward to as the "great day of the feast," when a crowd was to be expected. The threatening clouds inter ered with the early morning services at he auditorium, but towards noon the wel-CHARLESTOWN, August 23.—Editor Eagle come sunshine exchanged places with the rain and faces brightened correspondingly. Miss Jennie Smith directed the services and in your paper of Friday last you expressed such views of the Congressional contest in this district as might have been expect-Miss Jennie Smith directed the services and spoke at some length, her subject being "Prayer." A testimony meeting followed. The afternoon services were under direction of Mr. Sheddon, following a children's meeting. A number of converts spoke with deep feeling. Mr. Baggs, of Wheeling, spoke again by request. Also, Mr. Hilton, of Washington, D. C., who was earnest and eloquent on the subject of temperance. The singing was led by Mr Richards, and an interesting young daughter of Mr. Conner, of Wheeling, who has a very beautiful cottage here, very kindly took the place of the organist. At night revival services were held, and a number of conversions reported.

The closing meeting on the morning of ed from your established reputation for its egrity, and your known devotion to the remeiples and organization of the Democratic party in this district.

I desire to say to you that my views entirely accord with your own. I desire to express in a few words my position, in order that no one may misunderstand it. I claim that a majority of duly chosen, and properly accredited delegates to the Keyser Convention were favorable to my nomination. That in order to defeat me, and thus disappoint the public will, it was found necessary to resort to extraordinary and unjustifiable expedients, as follows, viz: The established and recognized basis to frepresentation in former conventions of the nest general expression of the popular vote, being the Presidential election of g1880, was to be abandoned, secondly, the delegations were in some manner to be oso manipulated and changed as to count our anough of delegates favorable to me to prevent my nomination.

The convention was a representative body. Individuals had no weight there, except be the weight given them by virtue of their rinciples and organization of the Demo ratic party in this district.

which she said was deserving in all respects of their support and patronage.

As the crowds dispersed your correspondent, not desiring to be "left alone in banquet hall deserted," accepted an invitation to drive to Oakland, and would you believe it. Mr. Editor? "dem Rock of Ages vinmen," as the brewers call them, were soon after advertised as holding a temperance meeting in the M. E. church. Indeed they held two—one in the afternoon and one at night. An auxiliary union, with fifty members, was organized at the last meeting, by Mrs. McLeod, of Maryland. I shall wend my way, being, as I hinted before, of an inquiring state of mind, towards Cumberland, where the Maryland teachers are to convene to-morrow. ndividuals had no weight there, except ne weight given them by virtue of their representative capacity, as representing an ascertained number of Democratic con-stituents, or votes, in their respective coun-ties. To chapte the basis of representations soon after advertised as holding a temperate representative capacity, as representation, therefore, necessarily required a rote by counties upon the basis of representation, therefore, necessarily required a rote by counties upon the basis last recognized and acted upon. Indeed there was no authority to take any important step without such a vote. Least of all, could the report on credentials, whereby it was attempted to unseat the whole Preston delegation because only the chairman of the meeting at which they were selected had certified the proceedings, be adopted, or in any wise acted upon, except by a representative rote by counties. Any other vote was sheer non-sense, and when insisted on, became fraudulent.

Every lawyer in the Convention knows this as well as I do, and no candid man, if sane, will dispute the proposition that the action of the assumed permanent chairman in refusing to permit a vote by counties was arbitrary, unjustifiable, unparlamentary, and utterly nugatory—as much so as if the Speaker of the House of Representatives should declare the result of a Presidential election, thrown into the House, by a viva voce vote, when the Constitution declares the same shall be determined only by State representation.

No importial spectator, if sane, will deny that the action of the chairman in unseating Preston and a large part of Taylor, was totally irregular, arbitrary, and utterly nugatory. No impartial spectator, if sane, will deny that the action of the chairman in unseating Preston and a large part of Taylor, was totally irregular, arbitrary, and utterly nugatory. No impartial spectator, if sane, will deny that the action of the chairman in unseating Preston and a large part of Taylor, was totally irregular, arbitrary, and utterly nugatory. No impartial spectator is precised as holded two—one in the at the last of the last and the sate of many heads of the last and unlearned, the old, young heads of the copy she had set for me. need not recall to your mind the regular developement, step by step, of this most brazen conspiracy. You were there and saw it all. You know that we could not, consistently with honor and self respect, have done otherwise than we did. You know and feel what a sacred duty we owe to the Democracy of this district to protect them against the repetition of such dangerous conspiracies against the integrity of their conventions, and the purity of their orgaizations. Palpitation of the Heart. J. M. Might, Syracuse, N. Y., writes:

ous conspiracies against the integrity of their conventions, and the purity of their worgaizations.

So long, therefore, as the representative in orgalizations.

So long, therefore, as the representative in of this fraud is in the field, I cannot possibly withdraw. Let this be understood once for all, unalterably and irrevocably. I will never withdraw while Hoge is in the field. Upon the other hand, accrediting others with motives as conscientious as my town, I now declare to you that the very moment Judge Hoge resigns his candidature, and retires from the contest, I will immediately do the same. I not only invite but most earnestly invoke Judge Hoge and his friends to consider the success of the Democracy in this district as I above personal aspirations. I pray them to meet me halfway, and let us both sacrifice all personal feelings upon the altar of patriotism and party fealty. I venture to suggest that whatever is done in this matter, should be done promptly, and before, by a personal canvass, any further responsibility shall, by the people themselves, be devolved upon my shoulders. A suggestion has been made that the issue be between Judge Hoge and myself be decided by a primary election. This suggestion meets with my hearty approval. If regularly conducted, such an election will give the Democratic voters themselves an opportunity to decide who is the regular CATARH CURED, lealth and sweet breath secured by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy.
